AVID for Higher Education (AHE), in collaboration with the Community College Equity Assessment Lab (CCEAL), invites you to a workshop focused on improving instructional practices and systems that open doors of opportunity for diverse learners.

Our Discussion

- How can higher education cultivate success for diverse students?
- What are the assumptions I may make about students, their communities, and perceived values? How does this impact my practice?
- What are instructional and institutional practices that impede or promote success for a diverse student body?

Schedule

9:00–10:00 a.m.
Check-In and Networking

10:00–11:15 a.m.
Infusing Equity Mindedness and Institutional Responsibility to Change the Narrative of Diverse College Students | Dr. Frank Harris, CCEAL

11:15 a.m.–12:15 p.m.
Using Culturally Responsive Teaching and Best Practices as Instructional Frameworks for Success | Yvonne Ortiz, AHE

12:15–1:00 p.m.
Lunch and Networking

1:00–3:00 p.m.
Proven Practices for Engaging Diverse Learners | Dr. Frank Harris and Yvonne Ortiz