Your Opportunity:
Junior/Senior Software Engineer
We are searching for a full stack developer who is passionate about his/her work product, enjoys taking ideas from concept to full deployment, relishes in time spent researching the latest technology trends, embraces the agile development methodology, and has a strong desire for rapid career advancement with an exciting, growing Pittsburgh startup.

The ideal candidate will be responsible for developing high-quality applications and implementing testable and scalable code. The selected candidate will complete an initial paid 90-day evaluation period which will entail working a part-time schedule to start at a highly competitive hourly wage based on his/her experience level and skill set. Upon successful completion of the 90-day evaluation period, you will be offered a full-time position to include wages, leadership responsibilities, and an opportunity to earn an equity stake in SHzoom. Occasional travel may be required.

What You Will Need:
*A proven track record of completing projects on time and within budget.
• Experience deploying and maintaining server instances.
• Proficient in AWS / Amazon Lex / Serverless architectures / Relational databases (MySQL)
• Backend Framework Expertise: You should be well versed in backend frameworks (PHP/Python/Rails) and have a working knowledge of ASP.net (we are currently transitioning from MVC/IIS server)
• Experience creating and securing APIs that interface with web and mobile applications.
• A working knowledge of front-end development/UI (HTML/HTML5, CSS, Javascript)
• Expertise in end to end User Testing / UX / GitHub

Your Primary Responsibilities
• Assist Technical Lead with prototyping, developing, and maintaining highly scalable, testable code for our 2.0 AI application with enhanced UX.
• Maintaining existing software and server instances.
• Rapid Development & Prototyping based on User feedback.
• IIS to AWS Server Migration
• Managing related outsourced projects as needed.
